WAITING FOR THE SPIRIT

The rollercoaster ride of the disciples has taken yet another turn. From the expectations of their first meeting with Jesus—when everything started to make sense for them, and they were convinced they had found the great king who would free them from the Roman occupation—to the talk of suffering and death. From the growing desire for power and authority with Jesus to the realisation that the power to serve is all that matters. From the familiar gathering of friends at the Last Supper to talk of betrayal. From running away as their Lord was led to be crucified to the exhilaration of seeing him raised from the dead. From the comfort of having the risen Jesus with them once more to guide them and answer their questions, to gazing heavenwards as he leaves them with the promise of sending the Spirit. So, again they find themselves hiding in the Upper Room, waiting for the promise to be fulfilled and for it all to make sense again in a new sort of way. They wait, yearning for a new beginning, for a new strength and a new hope.

The wait is so important. In waiting they find time to join together in prayer—they grow, through the shared experience of Jesus's life. Their wait makes the final gift even more special, for in waiting their expectation is enriched, their hearts open wide to accept the fullness of the Spirit and to be transformed by Him.

Waiting in so many of its guises is a vital part of our Christian experience: there is no true Christmas without Advent; no Easter Glory without Lent—and no real experience of the Spirit without time to realise our need for his presence. So, let us wait now, in the real hope that everything will be made clear for us, and that through all the trials and tribulations of our modern-day world, God will indeed turn all things to good.

INTERNATIONAL MASS

Next Sunday will be celebrating the great diversity of the parish with another International Mass for Pentecost (24th May). This year it will be the 11.15am Mass at Holy Cross and, as usual, there will be foods from around the world available afterwards. Please come along in your national costume if you are able—or alternatively you could wear something in red for the Pentecost feastday!

Loving Father,
be with us as we seek new ways
of being your people in our Diocese.
May each new day bring us closer to your son Jesus, as we follow his teaching and become disciples of love.
As we continue our Synodal journey,
draw us closer to each other.
May the truth of your Spirit enlighten us.
Open our hearts, as we listen to each other and reach out in love to your people.
Stay with us, Lord, on our journey. Amen.
